

Project acronym: Go-myLife

Project full title: Going on line: my social Life

AAL Joint Programme

Call for Proposals AAL-2009-2-089

D8.2 First Website release

Author: Noaa Barak (ATOS)

Version: 0.1

Date: 29/11/2010

Deliverable Number:	D8.2
Contractual Date of Delivery:	30/09/2010
Actual Date of Delivery:	29/11/2010
Title of Deliverable:	First website release
Dissemination Level:	Public
WP contributing to the Deliverable:	WP8
Author(s):	Noaa Barak
Participant(s):

History
Version	Date	Author	Comments
0.1	14/09/2010	Noaa Barak (ATOS)	Website released
1.0	29/11/2010	Noaa Barak (ATOS)	Document first version

Approval and Sign-off
Date	Name	Sign-off
29/11/2010	Fabio Tumiatti

Abstract

The first version of the Go-myLife project website was published 14/09/2010. This deliverable presents the first release of the website and outlines the plans for the second release.

Keywords

Go-myLife, website, dissemination

Table of Contents

1	First website release	5
2	Plans for second website release.....	5
3	Conclusions and summary	9

Table of Figures

Figure 1: screen-shot of website	5
Figure 2: website sketch n°1	7
Figure 3: website sketch n°2	8
Figure 4: website sketch n°3	9

1 First website release

The Go-myLife website was published on the 14/09/2010 with the aim of presenting the basic information regarding the project. Specific efforts were made to have the website online for the two AALJP forum events which took place September 14-15 and September 15-17 in Odense, Denmark.

As can be seen in the screenshot below, the first release of the website included general information about the project, referring to the need for Go-myLife, the technology platform and the expected benefits and exploitation opportunities. Additionally, all project partners were indicated, as well as the starting date of the project, the duration and the AAL and EC logos. The Go-myLife logo is presented according to the instructions for use of the logo.

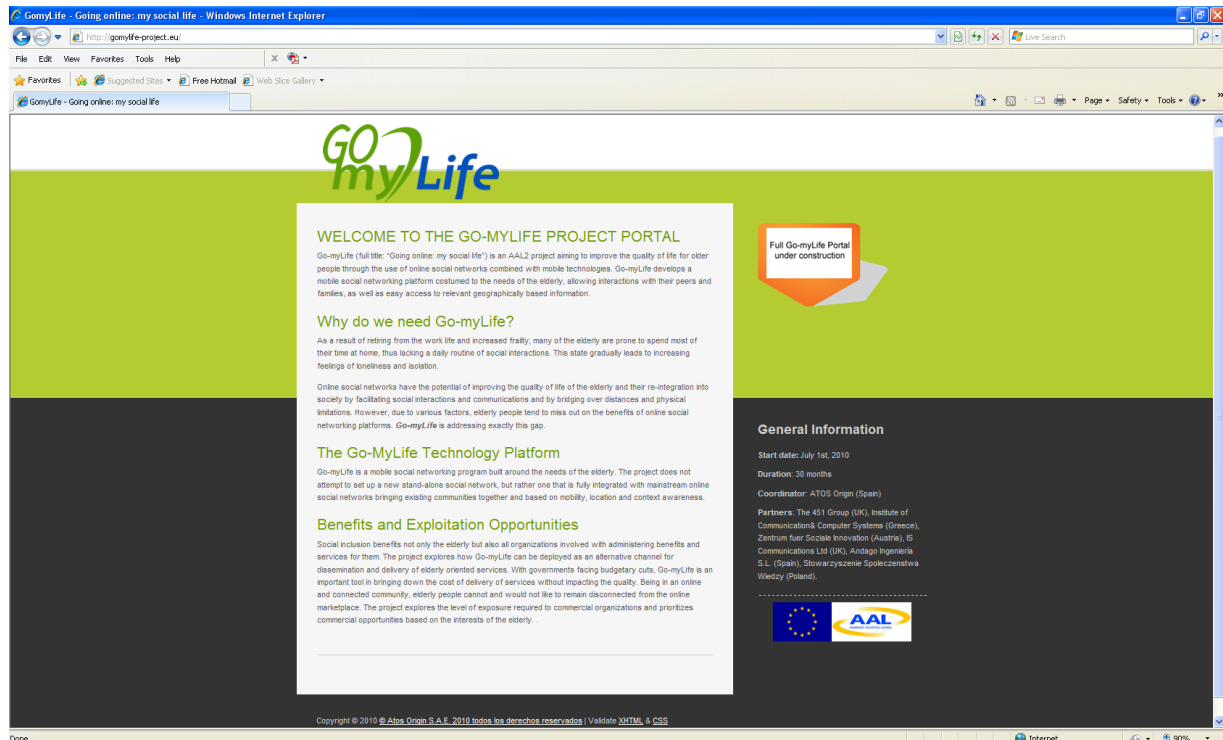

Figure 1: screen-shot of website

2 Plans for second website release

The second website release for Go-myLife is planned to present a more comprehensive website, providing details information about the project, the team of partners and our stakeholders.

The table below presents a sketch of the sitemap for the website. The website will follow the image established for the project (logo, colour scheme, project images) and will be in line with other publications coming from the project (leaflet, presentation, etc). As the

Go-mylife prototype progresses we will consider adding some features from it to the project website.

Table 1: planned sitemap

Homepage
	welcome
	news
	featured items
	images
	meet the team
	meet our end-users
	feeds?
About gomylife
	Abstract and objectives
	Vision
	Technology
Consortium partners
Stakeholder
	End-users
	Policy makers
Publications
	Press releases
	Presentation
	Articles
Contact Interact!
	follow gomylife
	questionnaires
	join our end-user community
	Go-myLife community

Below are three sketches for the home page of the website, now under development.

Figure 2: website sketch no°1

Figure 3: website sketch n°2

Figure 4: website sketch n°3

3 Conclusions and summary

The Go-myLife website was first published during month 3 of the project. The first version presents basic information about the project and work is underway to release the new version of the website, according to the sketches presented in this deliverable.